

WE NOMINATE

Robert Henry Staples, the able and energetic Director of the Public Library of Princeton, whose professional competence and enthusiasm are lifting the 14-month-old "new library" into the front rank of outstanding community libraries in the Middle Atlantic States. Even in an area accustomed to startling "gross statistics" it is phenomenal that Princeton Library's overall circulation, placing it among the "top 25 libraries" in New Jersey, jumped 32% in the span of a single year — from 239,879 in 1966 to 317,953 in 1967 — and that during the past month the Library recorded a 9% increase over January, 1967.

While the planners were keenly aware that the splendid new facilities, which were first occupied December 5, 1966, would result in a "library boom," they could hardly anticipate the dramatic rate of development under the leadership of the 36-year-old Staples. The "population explosion" is a basic factor, but Staples notes a half-dozen other "pressures," including increasing interest among Princetonians in such areas as politics, Vietnam and the arts; the involvement of more and more adults in education programs; the appeal of the Children's Department; mounting interest in leisure-time activities; the emergency of junior colleges; and people seeking to improve their job skills.

One measure of a library's operating efficiency is a ratio between total circulation (in this instance, some 318,000) and the institution's book stock, approximately 50,500 as of New Year's Day. This means that during the past year Princeton residents borrowed an average of 12.55 items per person with each volume, statistically speaking, leaving the library 6 times in 12 months. These figures underscore major problems for Staples and his staff as they work nearly 300 days a year with still inadequate collections that are well below the book levels maintained by communities of equivalent size. Ridgewood, for example, has 103,500 volumes; Maplewood, 855,300; Westfield, 77,500; and Summit, 63,700.

Increasingly active in professional associations as well as in the Princeton Adult School and the Princeton Junior Museum, Staples has been "book conscious" and an omnivorous reader as long as he can remember. Born in Toms River, the son of a contractor, he moved beyond the confines of New Jersey as a member of the Class of 1953 at Oberlin College, Ohio, where he combined honors in History with debating, publications and a series of stand-out performances as a varsity quarter-miler. The Armed Forces "called" and back to Fort Dix he came for two years with the Library Division of Special Services.

A brief role in the field of retail merchandising gave him an opportunity to save the funds that carried him on to his Master's Degree in Library Science at Rutgers, which he has continued to serve as a member of the Adjunct Faculty in its Library School. In 1957 he joined the Public and School Services Bureau of the State Library organization and for three years, organized Bookmobiles and related library ventures in the rural flatlands of South Jersey. In the summer of 1964, following three years in Summit, he succeeded Miss Margaretta Barr as the third professional librarian to serve the Princeton community.

For bringing to his responsibilities a kind of missionary zeal for "bringing books and people together," for striking an effective compromise between the charm of old Bainbridge House, the library's home for nearly six decades, and the appealing, highly efficient facilities of the new structure; for demonstrating beyond doubt that a skilled librarian is also a competent "jack-of-all-trades;" he is our nominee as

"NO" TO BUDGET
By 2 to 1, Princeton defeated the $5.3 million regional schools budget Tuesday by a margin of about 2-1. Defeated also was the school board's finance chairman, Charles Jaffin, running for re-election in the Township.

Mr. Jaffin lost by about 300 votes to William Marvel (Marvel 1,066; Jaffin 744), but Mr. Marvel had stated many times his own support of the budget.

Winning candidates in the Borough are John H. Marks, who ran high with 538, and William Z. Abrams with 514. Losers were John C. Sapoch Jr., with 448 and Jay K. Lucke with 388.

The total budget vote: Current: "yes" 108; "no" 2,024. Approximately 3,200 voters in Borough and Township turned out for the election - one of the biggest tallies for a school election in Princeton's history, and more than twice last year's vote.

A second budget vote will be held Tuesday, February 20. The school board was scheduled to meet in closed session this Wednesday, only twenty-four hours after the budget's defeat, to discuss what to do.

A public meeting will be held this Thursday at 8 in the high school to announce the board's decision.

Princeton had not defeated a school budget for 30 years until Tuesday. If voters defeat the budget that is presented on February 20, Borough Council and Township Committee will meet with the school board to work out a budget. If the two governing bodies do not act, the question goes to the state Department of Education, which will then decide Princeton's school budget is to be.

Next Monday, the board will hold its annual re-organization meeting at 8 at the high school. The three new members will take office at that time, and officers of the board will be elected. The three newcomers have been invited to Wednesday's closed meeting as non-voting participants.

Asked to comment on the budget outcome, Mrs. George Freeman, president of the board, said, "It was a big vote, and that's the important thing. Then she added, 'Princeton is an interesting community.'"

1-95, 205 APPROVED
By U.S. Bureau of Roads. Alignments for an 18-mile section of Interstate Route 95 between Hopewell and Hillsborough townships, and a 10-mile portion of I-295 between Hopewell and Hamilton townships, have been approved by U.S. Bureau of Public Roads. State Transportation Commissioner David J. Goldberg said that both routes follow the alignments presented at public hearings in December, 1985 and May, 1986, and recommended by his department. Right of way negotiations are now underway for I-295 and engineers will proceed with the design, the Commissioner said.

I-95 has run into more opposition, and faces a joint and brought by Hopewell, Franklin and Piscataway townships challenging the alignment as it affects them. The matter is now before the Appellate Division of State Superior Court. However, Mr. Goldberg said that design and right of way acquisition would begin for I-95.

A 2.5 mile portion of the route from the Scudders Falls Bridge to Scotch Road in Ewing Township is open traffic. If left unchanged by the courts, the road will stretch north 1 1/2 miles east of Lawrenceville, 2 1/2 miles east of Lawrenceville, then two miles east of Hopewell Borough. It will run parallel to the Reading tracks past Hopewell. The alignment has been approved up to Route 514 in Hillsborough Township.

The route will cut across Elm Ridge just before its intersection with the Pennington-Centerville Road, and across Centerville Road, and across Carter Road at Mt. Rose very close to the WIEW relay towers. Hans K. Sonder, chairman of the Township Planning Board, said the Township expected this alignment, and it isn't bad at all from Princeton's point of view.

The approved part of I-295 begins at South Brand Street in Hamilton Township and swings north crossing Route One south of Bakers Basin. Veering west, it will go under Route 581 (Princeton Pike) north of the Franklin Center Road intersection and cross Route 206 below its intersection with the Pennington-Lawrenceville Road. It will join up with I-95 in Hopewell Township at a point west of the intersection of Federal City Road and Denow Road. Interchanges are planned at most of the major roads it crosses.

TO MEET ON BY-PASS
In Closed Session. A closed meeting on the future of the 92-A by-pass will be held Wednesday, February 21, at 8 p.m. in Monticomey Township. The meeting, called by the State Department of Transportation, will be open to engineers, municipal officials

OPPOSITION GROWS

To Pipeline, Princeton Township and its residents will have two chances to press for modification of Transcontinental Pipeline plans for expansion in the community, and should take advantage both, advised municipal attorney Gordon Griffin at Township Committee Monday night.

Mr. Griffin warned Committee that Transcontinental has virtual immunity from zoning laws because the company holds a certificate of public convenience and necessity under the Federal national gas act.

However, Mr. Griffin told Committee that any utility must apply to the Public Utilities Commission in regard to safety standards, the strength of pipe, welding procedures, construction, and so on, and must appear at a public hearing after serving legal notice of the hearing to property owners who live within 100 feet of the line.

"Minor modifications might be made in the route of the line after such a hearing," Mr. Griffin suggested.

In addition, the company must acquire easements from the Township itself, as well as easement property owners. This gives us a second chance to know our position knows to the company and to the P.U.C.," Mr. Griffin explained. Transcontinental has said that it hopes to begin construction in Princeton about May 1, hence a P.U.C. hearing requires a 30-day period of notice, Mr. Griffin said. Township views may have a chance for airing late March or April.

The Hillcrest Civic Association, composed of property owners in the State Road-Lucas effering Road area, began writing, has informed Township Committee that is "unilaterally opposed to any more pipeline construction in the existing right of way, or any additions to the right of way."

Hillcrest's letter was read Monday night to Committee. One of its signatories is Harry J. Volavider, former president of the Association and now a Township Committee member. In response to a question from William Cherry, 24 Dempsey Avenue, Township engineer Frank Quinby said that sewer or water lines could go across the pipeline. They need only an 18-inch clearance, he said.

by the Township's new site plan review board will be made at Monday night's Planning Board meeting by Hans K. Sander, planning chairman. The Environmental Design Committee — to use its formal name — has met frequently but has not so far chosen a chairman. Its members are architects Robert M. Engelbrecht, A. Perry Morgan Jr. and Henry A. Jandt; landscape architect H. Russell Butler and planner Robert S. Bennett.

At Monday night's meeting, the Planning Board will consider the final plan of the 16 lots of Section Three of "North Hill" on Ridgeview Road, a parcel including the new cul-de-sac called Lenox Road.

Also on the agenda are Stuart County's proposal to subdivide one of the lots purchased from Hermann Behl into two four-acre lots: the plots of Hunt & Augustine to add to two lots on Audubon Road (off Rosedale) by acquiring additional property from Alex J. Ehl and a "clean-up" proposal by "Ten-acre" to consolidate its two lots into a single one.

Transcontinental Pipeline, currently the source of rumblings in the Township, will come into the proceedings because its line goes through the Audubon Road lots to be presented by Mr. Augustine.

Every Township has dollar 15.8 cents goes for municipal purposes, 25.5 cents goes to the county and 58.7 cents is used by the schools.

The variable formula used to determine who pays what in joint Borough Township projects is now 41% for the Township, 39% for the Borough.

Public hearings for the budgets will be held Tuesday, March 12 in the Borough, Monday March 13 in the Township.

WHERE'S FRANKLIN?
Road Delay Questioned. It seems like a long time since Franklin Avenue was closed between Walnut Lane and Linden and it looks like a long winter before the new Franklin or a sign will be ready for use.

Henry J. Frank asked Township Committee Monday night about the delay, especially the stipulation in the original agreement that Westminster Choir College was to keep the old Franklin open until the new Franklin is completed.

Westminster is constructing a new dormitory in what used to be the Franklin Avenue roadway.

Township engineer Frank Quinly replied that the choir college came before the Planning Board in October with a handicap. He charged that the Princeton Regional School Board, trying to get out from under the financial burden of constructing a new dormitory, had caused the delay in building the new road. The choir college wanted to close Franklin and move ahead with its new dormitory immediately before winter from out construction and asked to be relieved of the requirement to wait for the new road.

The Planning Board agreed.

Not Again?

Remember, just
A year ago
We got about
A foot of snow!

Some 12½ inches, to be exact, hit this area during the first week of February last winter. To mark the anniversary, the Man said he was planning a snow for Thursday, but wouldn't decide how much.

It's overcast, at that. The last measurable snowfall in these parts was on New Year's Eve.

however, the board said that the old Franklin could remain closed for only 30 days, and that at the school board's contractors hadn't completed the new Franklin at the end of that time, the choir college would have to build a temporary road.

Snow, rain and ice came early, and delayed construction of the Franklin re-alignment. Apparently the temporary road was forgotten. Mr. Quinly said. In January, the Planning Board called the choir college back and asked "what happened?"

Mr. Quinly was instructed to collect weekly progress reports from both the school board's road contractor and from Westminster. He told Committee he had received the reports, but that weather had kept everyone back. Administrator Joseph R. Nini was to press both parties for a quick solution.

Mr. Frank protested that Westminster had appeared before the Planning Board on both occasions in executive session and that the public had not been told about any of the negotiations.

In other business, the Traffic Safety Committee asked Township Committee to:

- Urge Princeton University and the Pennsylvania Railroad to eliminate the Faculty Road grade-crossing, scene of a recent fatal accident, perhaps by moving the railroad tracks to a point south of Faculty.
- Ban parking for 100 feet along Witherspoon opposite the entrance to Community Park School.

• Ban parking along Witherspoon where the hospital's new exits are.

• Ban parking on the east side of Walnut Lane from Guyok to Valley and the entire west side of Linden Lane (in the Township).

• Remove the loading zone on Guyok near Witherspoon established for Hovey's Meat Market, which is no longer in business.

• Ask the state to review traffic on Princeton-Forsyth Road from Snowden Lane to Kingston, with a view to reducing the speed limit to 35 m.p.h., as requested by 42 residents in petition.

Committee moved to ask the state for the speed review and took the rest under advisement.

The Township has applied for $10,000 in state aid for 1989, to finance the work on an Alexander Road. The money must be matched by the municipality. The Township has $20,000 for the purpose for this year.

After a 50-minute legal debate between counsel for Princeton Research Land, Inc., attorney Gordon Griffin and various Committee members, Committee refused to consider an appeal by the company.

Princeton Research Lands, Inc., asked waiver of the ten day requirements for filing such an appeal. The appeal was filed 11 days after the decision.

JUVENILE ADMITS THEFT

Of Tape Recorder. A 17-year-old Trenton juvenile was arrested by Borough police last week when he admitted to them that he had stolen a $125 tape recorder from a display room in the University Stores.

The youth was taken Thurs day to Mercer County Jail by Detective John J. Bellow. He tried to escape as noon as he got out of the car but was caught a short distance away by Detective Bellow. He is scheduled to appear for a hearing before Mercer County Juvenile Judge J. Wilson Noden.

St. Theodore Lewis and P. Allen Benkert investigated the theft, and obtained a description of the youth who had been seen in the University Stores.

Upon questioning, he admitted the theft and revealed where he had hidden the recorder. It was returned to the University Store.

Water Pump Takes. A large water pump valued at $300 has been taken from a construction site at the end of Arcton Road in the Township.

Donald Watson of the O.B. Lewis & Son Contractors, Lambertville, told Township police he thought at first the pump may have been tossed into a water-filled hole by children when he said were getting them trouble. He said that an

MRS. PEACUCH IN REPOSE: Anne Gee Byrd is really a mother in "The Beggar's Opera," although this pose would scarcely suggest Whistler. John Gay's billing comments on 18th century society (would you believe 26th century, about?) are now in repertory at McCarter.

News Of The THEATRES

"BEGGAR'S OPERA" OPENS
News, at McCarter, "The Beggar's Opera" is a play you expect to find racy and sharp-edged, but an evening with John Gay's 18th century musical is a long evening indeed. It is not wholly the fault of M. C. Carter that "Beggars' Opera" drags. Jon Jory has directed a production full of movement and incident, and bursting with life. We see a thieves' den in the shams of 18th-century London as vividly as we see it in a Hogarth engraving. The stage is constantly crowded with people — pickpockets, thieves, prostitutes, jailers. They roar with laughter and slap their knees, they engage in lusty and smacking kisses, they swagger from one side of the stage to the other, they sing the familiar "Swiss" with speed and highest gusto, but these separate and lively parts are infinitely more entertaining than the whole.

Gay's commentary hangs on the framework of a very slender plot if it can indeed be called that at all. "Beggars' Opera" is a play within a play, assisted by the cronies of Stochen, a receiver of stolen goods, in Peacuch's house.

It centers on Macheath, a gentleman-highwayman who has such a way with the ladies that he seems to have acquired more or less, one wife, more or less. One Lady Lockit, daughter of the Newgate jailer, wears her apron about seven months high on his account. The other, Peacuch's daughter Polly, claims that she and not Lucy, is Macheath's one true wife. Meanwhile, Peacuch and Lockit, the jailer, plot to betray Macheath for fun and profit and send him to the gallows.

Still, Still There. But it is not the story line that sends audiences to John Gay's opera. The words he puts into the mouths of his pickpockets are sharp and wicked, and "Beggars' Opera" is as much a sing today as it had 260 years ago when it was first performed. The corruption we see in the den of thieves, Gay is telling us, is no different from the corruption we see higher on the social scale among judges and lawyers, officers of state and clergymen.

The music races and the words abound here. The actors articulate them splendidly but the production might have had more bite if some of the sharp lines had been delivered a bit more deliberately so that the shifts have time to sink home.

McCarter's actors have established themselves by now as thoroughly reliable, but a newcomer nearly robs them blind in this production. She is Susan Kaskow, a young lady who looks like a distracted beagle puppy, and who plays Polly Peacuch with lawless...

Jon R. Lorrain, junior at Princeton who is majoring in French, will portray the title role. Mr. Lorrain worked for two years with the Academy Theatre in Atlanta, and has appeared in almost every intimate show for the last three years.

Peggy Zino, professional actress with the Bucks County Playhouse, will play the female lead. Miss Zino has appeared with the ANTA Readery Theatre and on television.

Intime will use a translation of "The Misantrophe" done into rhymed couplets by Richard Wilbur. Period costumes have been designed by Michael Barry of Paris.

M. O'Brady, a veteran of 50 years in the theatre, will be remembered by Princeton audiences for his direction last year of McCarter's "Servant of Two Masters."

BID ON A HYDROPLANE

Or a Mink Coat? Smith Club Auction fans have picked up so many delicacies over the years that when Auction time comes around each year, you can't keep 'em away.

This Saturday the annual auction will be held at Littlebrook School from 9:30 a.m. until late afternoon. Lester and Robert Stalford will be the auctioneers. Beneficiaries will be the girls who receive scholarships to Smith financed by Auction proceeds. Since 1949 over $45,000 has been raised, so you can tell your husband that the mink coat you bid on successfully was bought with the noblest of motives.

Yep, a mink coat. Full length. There will also be a three-quarter muskrat jacket in excellent condition and a brand-new cable-stitch cardigan, hand knit in cherry red.

Your husband, meanwhile, has his eye on the 12-foot hydroplane (yellow, trimmed with green). The 3 1/2 liter draft speedboat is seaworthy and ready to roll.

Antiques collectors will exclaim over a Swedish wedding chest case more than a century old. It stands about six and one-half feet high and is made of pine, with a carved open-work headpiece, hand-pointed numbers, brass hands and a hand-painted floral design on the lowest panel. It is unmistakably Scandinavian and completely charming.

In another department, so far as antiques are concerned, we find a very old brass candlestick with the classic "push-up" device; a bright blue and gold lamp base of porcelain and a pair of black and gold wall brackets, each with candle holders.

If you have an eye for unusual furniture pieces, the Smith Auction offers a small Victorian table which has an unexpectedly large surface when you raise its leaves. Wonderful for a small apartment.

A Victorian chair has charmingly curved back, and an excellent muslin covering just waiting to take new upholstery. A marble-topped bureau, a pair of dining chairs in the Duncan Phyfe style and a real Oriental rug, 9x12 feet (mostly blue and rose)—all ready for your bid.

Here are a pair of side chairs which are Queen Anne reproductions made about 125 years ago in England. They are upholstered with an attractive striped fabric.

And then—a set of tulip-shaped goblets, deep blue, with a matching speedboat, a set of English Johnsenware plates (pink, with floral pattern) and a treasure collection of bathroom linens, including tablecloths and towels.

Our favorite in the Smith catalogue is a complete paper napkin set—a paper party. Paper, that's right—in a 60x102 inch cloth, eight dinner plates, dessert plates, cups and round napkins, coasters, matchboxes, AND A MATCHING PAPER DRESS.

MADE OF IRON

The atelier belongs to Stanley Miller, a Pratt Institute art graduate who buried his tailcotes for 20 years while he worked as a successful contractor. Now, contracting is a thing of the past, and Mr. Miller works quietly and happily in his studio, welding and designing and having the time of his life.

Abstract sculpture in wrought iron is a Miller specialty. Here is a beauty about five feet tall, custom-made to stand in a quiet spot in some lucky garden. Here is a splendid dancer a full five feet tall, leaping against the background of a white wall and casting dramatic shadows. (Notice the bronze brazing that gives high light to the dark iron.)

A low table might be the base for a three-foot bouquet of thin wires that quiver in a breeze, or in the air currents of a living-room.

Plate sculpture has been used for a lamp base, and also for an abstract to hang on a wall. In plate sculpture, Mr.

Miller arranges rectangles of iron in various planes to indicate depth and to catch the light in varying ways.

Sculpture too big for your little house? Here's a square trivet . . . a six-inch candle stick shaped like a tulip . . . an owl wall plaque with a handle . . . a chaise five-can-die stick, the candles held at the tops of two U-shaped bends and the stick shaft.

And the five-inch fish is a charming bit of table sculpture.

creed and acted Death figure, were the opening and closing scenes of the diplomats at a peace conference, elaborately costumed in cutaway and past and wearing masks like Daumier caricatures.

The towering figure and splendid dancing of Maximiliano Zomosa as Death was beautifully supported by the company, with Marjorie Mathman as the old woman and Luis Puente as the profligate, particularly outstanding. "The Joffrey" ("Green Table") is an important addition to the world repertory of great "living museum ballets," in the same way as the New York City Ballet's early Balanchine-Vaslavsky pieces and the Bourinville of the Royal Danish Ballet.

Ballet Without Music. The program was supposed to have started with "Cello Concerto" (Vivaldi) choreographed by Gerald Arpino, followed by Jerome Robbins' unaccompanied "Moves." Somewhat confusingly, the portion of the program of the two ballets were reversed without announcement, leaving the audience briefly in doubt whether it was watching a ballet unaccompanied by music as such, or a ballet unaccompanied by Vivaldi, making for a nice distinction.

Beautifully danced, "Moves" was successful in conveying Robbins' aim of presenting a ballet about human relationships based solely on the action of the dance, with the viewer released from the associations evoked by scenery, costumes, and music. Although the result was a little like "West Side Story" without music and at times fleetingly embarrassing (what do you do when ten deadly serious dancers standing in a row seem to stare straight into your eyes?), it did offer a valued chance to concentrate on the technique of the dancers and the evolution of dance patterns. Occasionally it conveyed a pleasant, "inside" feeling of watching the dancers at rehearsal.

The Arpino-Vivaldi effort was the least successful of the evening's offerings. A little naive choreographically, it also showed the dancers to less advantage than the surrounding ballets. The leading parts were danced by Ericka Goodman and Jon Cristoforo, with fine support by Trinitie Singleton and George Anastasio in the Pas de Quatre.

Don't Look Back (Thurs. 8 p.m.) Bob Dylan's daily life and his philosophies. Additional music by Joan Baez.

Up to Lenin (Sat. thru Wed.) A Leningrad, exciting documentary on the Russian Revolution. Herman Axelbaum, the producer, collected this rare, historical footage over a period of 13 years.

The scenes range from the Tsar and the royal family at play, to Lenin rallying crowds, to the United Red Army, to Lenin's death and the rise of the new dictator, Stalin. Two short films accompany the documentary: "The Russian Village," and "Russian Culture."

Playhouse, Prince, Lincoln
The Graduate (now playing) is a comedy concerning a graduate who knows not what to do about the future and who becomes involved with an older woman and then falls in love with her daughter. Under the direction of Mike Nichols, the film is a series of sketches (tied together by a thread of a plot) strongly reminiscent of the type of satirical sketch Nichols used to act with Elaine May.

Dustin Hoffman, as the hero, is an easy mark for Anne Bancroft, and when her daughter, played by Katherine Ross, comes onto the scene, our hero falls for her. The mother is determined he won't marry her offspring. Her efforts to stop him are the basis for the remainder of the sketches in the film. The scenes, or sketches, are amusing and often hilarious. Dialogue is sharp and funny. Nichols uses some modern free-wheeling techniques, melding of reality and fantasy, shots through an aquarium and rock-and-roll background with vocals.

"WAR GAME" COMING
To Lambertville. Two films dealing with the aftermath of nuclear attack will be shown this weekend at the New Strand Theatre in Lambertville. "The War Game," directed by Peter Watkins, and a filming of an H. G. Wells fantasy, "Things to Come" will be given this Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the Lambertville theatre. See the advertisement in this week's Town Topics for the schedule of show times.

A 47-minute "documentary," "The War Game" was made to be shown in England on the BBC, but was banned by BBC authorities, and is now in general release in the United States. The H. G. Wells was made in 1935 with Raymond Massey and Ralph Richardson.

"ASHES AND DIAMONDS"
In Classic Film Series. The 1958 Polish prize-winner, "Ashes and Diamonds" will be shown next Tuesday at the new film in McCarter's Classic Film Series.

Renowned as a sharp portrayal of a communist society, the film describes the conflict between idealism and instinct in resistance fighter men who assassinate the wrong men at the end of World War II. Andrej Wajda, director of the film, won the Grand Prize for it at the Vancouver and Venice Film Festivals in 1959.

 other pump was obtained and the hole drained. However, the pump was not there.

In other thefts last week, Dennis Wilk of Bound Brook reported the loss of five stereo tapes valued at $35 and a $50 tachometer from his car parked in a Chambers Street lot, and Michael Sander, vice president of Market Dynamics, Inc., Witherspoon Street, reported the theft of $103 from a cash box that had been locked in a recipient's desk drawer.

The manager of the Colonial Club reported the theft of a $40 watch from the employer's quarters. The watch bore the name of the owner, George Bodwell.

VANDALS BREAK WINDOW

At YMCA Building, Borough police report that during a dance at the YMCA Saturday night, vandals ripped three liquid soap dispensers from the men's room and hurled one of them through a three by five foot pane glass window.

PI Gerald Patterson investigated. Edward Simonson of Cranbury came to police headquarters Monday night to report that a two by six board had been tossed through the rear window of his convertible while it was in the Park and Shop lot behind 30 Nassau Street. He said the incident took place between 9:30 and 10:30 p.m.

PHIS YOUTHS ARRESTED

For Marijuana Possession Three Princeton High School boys, two aged 17, one 16, were arrested Tuesday morning by the Borough police for charged with possession of marijuana.

Two of the youths were taken to Mercer County Jail. Their case will be heard by Mercer County Juvenile Judge J. Wilson Nolen. The third boy was released in custody of his parents.

The youths' car was stopped around 10 Tuesday morning on Hamilton Avenue on a routine check by P.I. Anthony Gay and P.I. David Pote of the Township. They were held until Lt. Michael Carnevali and Juvenile Officer John A. Bellow of the Borough police arrived.

Officer Bellow made the charges. Lt. Carnevali said one of the youths lived in the Township and two live in the neighboring communities.

Royce of Hasty Acres, posing to illustrate the forthcoming Goucher Club showing of the children's film, "Misty of Chincoteague." Mrs. J. Royce, mother of the club, stands with Kimberly Hillier, 4½, who will undoubtedly be in the "Misty" audience. J. B. Hillier, two, is Royce's mount, and David "Beaver" Johnson of Hasty Acres, holds Rozzy in line. The date is February 19; the place, the Garden Theatre.

CAVE LEAVES ROAD Tearing U.H.R. of Fence, A convertible driven by a University student went off the right side of Alexander Road near the Alexander Street extension Saturday morning at 9 a.m., tore up 14 feet of post and rail fence and then struck a Public Service pole.

David Lindsay, 21, of Sarasota, Fla., told Township police that he was still groggy from a night's sleep as he rounded a wide curve. He said he overcompensated for the turn and his wheels ran off the side of the road and caught in the mud, pulling him to the right. Mr. Lindsay escaped injury but his car was extensively damaged and had to be towed away. There were no charges.

Police reportedly found $886 in cash and a number of lottery tickets on the man and under the car's floor mat.

They were armed with a search warrant for Young's car that had been issued by Magistrate Theodore T. James Jr. for three-week surveillance of the two by police. Young was also the recipient of two other charges. He was charged with carrying a concealed weapon after police reportedly found a loaded .22 caliber pistol on him during their investigation.

Police had a warrant for his arrest for assault and battery, as well as Herbert Broadway of 10 Leach Avenue, the complainant, told police that he had been assaulted by Young at 3½ Saturday morning on a Birch Avenue

Byrne, 77, Princeton Road, Plainsboro, and Philip Parkour, 66, 524 Ewing Street, both charged with careless driving, paid fines of $15 each.

Borough snow removal ordinance. He was fined $15.

Three Middlesex County drivers have had their licenses suspended by the Division of Motor Vehicles for exceeding the point limit.

They are Lawrence J. Pennell, 25, and Kenneth L. Edwards, 24, both of Cranbury, and Robert F. Smith, 18, of Pinckney. Each lost his license for one month.

MORE ON HOUSING

At Mid-Income Level, Borough officials, businessmen, representatives of Princeton Community Housing, Inc. and the architect of the proposed middle income housing units met late Tuesday afternoon to compare ideas.

"We have one group that's working to fulfill a community need," explained Arthur P. Morgan, Planning Board chairman, "and another group, Palmer Square, Inc., that wants to use its land in the most economically advantageous way. So, instead of having everybody work at his own little project in the last remaining open space in the center of town, we decided to work together on an overall, co-ordinated basis."

The meeting, first of several, was attended by Russell Geddes, P.H.C.'s architect; Theo-

UNITED FUND TOPS GOAL

For Eighth Consecutive Year The combination of dedicated work of volunteers on every level and the generosity of contributors has enabled the Princeton area United Fund Red Cross campaign to exceed its goal for the eighth straight year. A total of $302,143 has been counted to date, close to $2,000 more than the goal of $300,275.

The 17,777 contributors to the fund were 1,072 more than last year, which helped boost the 1967 figure to 11.4% over the 1966 when $450,449 was collected. Every district except the area campaign surpassed its 1966 totals both in the number of contributors and the amount raised. The decrease in this division was traceable to the identified "give where you work" program and a transfer of certain gifts to other divisions.

Ted David, campaign chairman noted that the per capita contribution average rose from $11.55 to $17.24. "This increase is a tribute to the public's recognition and confidence in the campaign," he said. Mr. David will give a report at the fund's annual meeting on Monday at Princeton Inn. "I believe that every volunteer and contributor should feel a great sense of satisfaction and pride in helping to assure the continuation of the agency services to the affiliated communities," Mr. David continued. "The report of various divisions show that all communities are providing leadership and financial support to the campaign."

The report by divisions, with the chairmen responsible: Special Gifts, Bernard Barenholz, $142,409; Religious, Stewart Otto, $210,886; Princeton University, David Thompson and David Rabin, $18,294; Mercantile, Theodore Reid and Everett Campbell, $12,786; Professions, George Adriance, $14,538; Education, Dr. Paul Chesnut, $12,538; Trades, John Moran, $7,424; Shopping Center, Harold Stare, $4,387; Area Campaign, $2,825.

A Time for Facts.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
There has been a good deal of grumbling recently among the regulars who ride the Penny 7:29 a.m. out of Princeton Junction to New York. It's never on time, is the complaint.

I happen to know this is unfair. The 7:29 got into Penn Station New York right on time just two or three weeks ago, and there was one day during Christmas week when it was on time, too. I am pretty sure it made it on time once in November, but this is now so far back as to be dim. Never on time indeed!

I think these complainers owe it to everybody to take the optimistic view. "The Penn Central is Rolling," I (and the big ad in the February 1 issue of The New York Times) happily advise them. "What does this mean to You?" I (and the ad continue. "Service, better service to the millions of people, to the communities and towns..."

On February 1, the Penn Central's first day, I heard at least one snide remark that the above was just advertising talk—that the 7:29 still wouldn't get us to the church on time. That is the spirit I take up arms against, and I do it with the following facts:

Arr. Penn Sta. P3 Newark NYC

TRAIN NO. 254.

published schedule:

(amt)	7:29	8:14	8:30
Fri. Jan. 26	7:41	8:29	8:50
Mon. Jan. 29	7:33	8:13	8:42
Tue. Jan. 30	7:32	8:18	8:38
Wed. Jan. 31	7:32	8:17	8:38
Thur. Feb. 1	7:31	8:11	8:37
Fri. Feb. 2	7:31	8:15	8:31

Friday's accomplishment ought to quiet some of this talk. On the second day of Penn Centralism, O' No. 254 came within a minute of being on time into Penn Station NYC. And she was sixteen minutes later than she had been just a week earlier. So what are they complaining about?

I think the Penn Central boys need encouragement, not denunciation. And so for a while I shall faithfully collect and report the facts of their performance. The truth shall make them free!

"Dinky" Gets a New Name

When the long-awaited merger between the two railroad giants, the New York Central and the Pennsylvania, became effective last Thursday morning at 12:01 a.m., it was only natural that the "Dinky" should be one of the first to bear the new name. The two-car shuttle, which carries commuters between Princeton and Princeton Junction, proudly displayed Penn-Central, in big letters on the side and on placards attached to doors at either end of the train in time for its first run.

Unfortunately, because of the rain some of the letters have fallen off. They were not the work of painters from the new company, but an unofficial effort by some anonymous individuals interested in keeping the "Dinky" up with the times most likely University undergraduates.

performance. The truth shall make them free! GEORGE H. FREMON 131 Western Way

Borough Program Questioned. To the Editor of Town Topics: The Borough of Princeton already has the information in by the Tax Assessors provided by the Board of Health for its "Crash Program" as to rental units.

The Tax Assessors Appraisal files are exceptionally complete as to physical facts; dimensions and uses, including electric, gas, water and sewerage facilities and also type of heating.

Physical inspection of all private and rental units was originally planned and actually revised by a qualified appraiser from Avon, N. J., for which a substantial fee was paid by the taxpayers.

Why pay some $1,200 of tax money for the same information to be obtained by unqualified student interviewers?

Doesn't one hand of our local and state government know what the other hand has in its fist?

I. STANLEY WARREN 52 Bayard Lane

Pair Planning for Bridge.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am in favor of a new bridge on the Princeton - Kingston Road. Since everyone agrees a new bridge is necessary, the issue has been obscured that the present State plan is a poor plan. The best word for it is "junky."

It is going to please no one, because it destroys historic buildings, and the local environment for no reason. It would be different if there were no land in the vicinity of this corner. However, there is land, space and room for all the intersections, widths, shoulders and curves necessary for the new bridge. Why then cannot the bridge be planned to use the available space and flexibility?

The State claims that the bridge does not need to fit into the area (i.e. "regional planning") because it is only "spot planning." Since it is "spot planning," it can be planned and unplanned.

The Old Red Mill is a landmark for our area. It is featured in books, pictures, and articles on the state of New Jersey. It appears in almost every pictorial survey.

I am writing to protest the destruction of the Old Red Mill, and the building next to it, the Macphail house. The Mill will be down in a pit, 18 feet below the surface of the road. There will be guard rails stretching the whole length of the property.

When we first set up our Consumer Bureau in 1912, we needed a way to make our business more helpful to the public. We decided to do this by having several people work for us. One of our Registered members was a local equipment dealer. He had a large stock of equipment. We figured out to do the whole file drawers and two thousand rods and a part of our stock. That's what we call the job. To get out of it as fast as possible before you buy.

Our phone was out of service for a few hours last week — through no fault of our own. We are sorry about this and will have a letter on opposite page. Our thanks to the people who alerted us by calling Town Topics.

April, 1962. He lives at Fairview Avenue in West Windsor. Pil Benkert, who joined the Borough force two years ago, lives in Robbinsville.

Bolt Township Chief James B. Campbell Jr. and Borough Chief Peter J. McCrohan reported that they were losing good officers. West Windsor did have its own full-time police force until the first of this year when Francis McGahey, former Lt. on the Borough force, became West Windsor's chief.

Chief Campbell said that he will pick a replacement for Pil Cox within two months. He added that he had requested four additional men for his department, but had been granted one, which means the Township will be drawing two names from its lists of applicants.

Chief McCrohan said that he would request another examination for patrolmen by the end of the month. Under the new pay scale proposed last week by Mayor and Council starting patrolmen in the Borough would receive $7,800 working up to $10,000 a scale which he described as "one of the best in the state."

Applicants must be U.S. citizens and between 21 and 28. Chief McCrohan said that applications may be obtained at the N. J. State Police Headquarters on U.S. 1.

HOPEWELL BUDGET WINS

As Three Negroes Lose, Three Negro candidates for the Hopewell Valley Regional Board of Education were defeated Tuesday while voters were approving the budget for the coming year.

The losing candidates were backed by the Hopewell Valley Association for Equal Opportunities. In the Hopewell Township race, Philip Alamo, sole secretary of agriculture and board incumbent, defeated James Barnes, 674 to 140.

In Pennington, James E. Daggett won over Newton Stewart, 114 to 137. In Hope well Borough, Donald S. McCoy polled 105 votes to defeat

Goldman M. Kidd, the Negro candidate, with 175, and Arthur M. Wright, 113.

The $2.9 million budget was approved by a margin of about 1 to 11.35, higher than the one now in operation. Approximately 65 percent of the total vote of 7,134 went to the poll, one of the heaviest votes on record.

KRAFT BUSTENDING PLANS

To Locate in Lawrence: Plans by the Kraft Foods Division of National Dairy Products Corporation to build a $30 million manufacturing and food processing complex on Route One and Quarterbridge Road in Lawrence Township may be dropped.

A recent change in personnel at National Dairy has reportedly produced the decision to reevaluate the idea. The company announced in November through Gov. Richard J. Hughes office that it had selected the Lawrence site over five others along the eastern seaboard. Apparently one or more of the others is being reconsidered.

If the firm sticks by its original plans, it will build the complex in four phases on 260 acres beginning in 1969. Initially, there would be employment for 600 workers, and eventually 1,200 would be hired.

FIVE ARE NOMINATED

For Hospital Board: Three new candidates and two incumbents have been nominated to fill five vacancies on the Princeton Hospital board of trustees. The election will be held at the annual meeting of the hospital, have been nominated for re-election. James Carey, chairman of the nominations committee, will of the proposed $400,000 structure. The three new candidates are: Arthur N. Curtis, 332 Dodds Lane, staff vice-president for administration; RCA Laboratories; George B. Webster, Mountain View Road, a consulting engineer; and R. Kenneth Fairman, Rovedale Lane, director of athletics at Princeton University.

Trees and shrubs will be removed in the front and on the side, the grass dug up and the wall removed so that asphalt can be laid across the front. There will be no way for the Pexco's and their children to cross the road or catch the school bus without going into Kingston.

The effect to the house next door will be equally devastating. This house was built about 1749 and is in almost original condition. It has been beautifully restored by the present owners, and is one of the most charming and historic buildings in Princeton. This house has been put on a National Register of Historic Buildings, and is being proposed as a National Historical Landmark.

Under the State's plan, the highway will come to the door step. All protection from the noise and dirt of the road will be removed — the fence, the hedge, the grass and trees will be replaced by a "slope." State officials agree that to exit from the highway drive way into 50 mph traffic will be dangerous.

The State claims it is "saving" these buildings. How would "Morse" look, surrounded by asphalt? How would the White House look without its trees, lawns, and shrubs? Can we "save" Monticello by surrounding it with guard rails?

The plans are now out for bids to construction companies, and work will start this spring. Only Governor Hughes or other State officials and politicians can do anything at this point. I urge you all to write to Governor Hughes or other political figures, protesting this unnecessary road. Only public protest can save these buildings now. Please write today!

ABORTION REFORM URGED

By YVCA. The YVCA has established an abortion law reform committee to support a state bill aimed at revision of the state's abortion laws.

Mrs. Eugene Krasnoff is chairman of the new committee.

COMMITTEE FOR ABORTION REFORM. Working to liberalize New Jersey's abortion laws are members of this YVCA committee from left (seated): Mrs. Owen Schuler, Mrs. Steven Holsstein, and Mrs. Robert Bergman. Standing, Mrs. Eugene Krasnoff, chairman, Mrs. John Van Raalte, Mrs. Stephen Bender and Mrs. Maria Fletcher.

The YVCA's immediate project is to get signatures for a petition in support of state legislation to establish an abortion commission of three assemblers, three senators, and five laymen to study the abortion problem.

The YVCA has estimated that 30,000 illegal abortions are performed each year in New Jersey, calling for urgent revision of the existing laws.

MAN PULLS GUN

During Argument. A argument between two Princeton University employees at WJ-Cox Hall Tuesday morning has resulted in two charges, one by Borough police and another by one of the participants.

Borough police have charged Sterling Henry, 28, of Trenton with possession of a concealed weapon. Henry allegedly pulled a loaded pistol on William Manley during an argument that started around 10 in the morning. Manley, 32, in turn has signed an assault complaint against Henry.

Henry was held in $1,000 bail, pending his arraignment Wednesday before Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams. Manley was released in $500 bail.

The incident was investigated by P.I. Thomas Michael and P.I. Robert Mucedarelli.

TRUSTEE MEETING SET

For Adult School. Mrs. Robert V. Dilley, chairman of the trustees of the Adult School, has announced the annual open meeting of the trustees to be held Tuesday, February 27 at the Public Library, beginning at 8:15 p.m. The meeting will include reports of the past year's activities and plans for the future.

The trustees are anxious to have as possible students at the meeting, to have questions answered about the present curriculum and to receive suggestions from the audience on possible inclusions in the future.

Professor Simon Marcon, chairman of the nominating committee, will submit a slate of officers and trustees for approval by the present trustees. The officers include Robert H. Staples and Mrs. Anne B. Shepherd, co-chairmen; Mrs. James H. Johnson, curriculum chairman; Mrs. F. J. Almgren, secretary; and Mrs. Dwight North, treasurer.

New trustees with three-year terms are Mrs. Leland Allen, Mrs. Cyril Black, Michael Curtis, Hans Heinemann, Mrs. Harry Kahn, and Mrs. Neil O'Connor. Mrs. Arthur Lewis will serve for one year.

Mrs. Elmer Alpert and Mrs. Robert Seirell have been nominated to serve another three-year term as trustees. Other trustees continuing to serve on the board are Mrs. George McCuskey, Simon Marcon, Mrs. John Hartigan, George Loo, Mrs. Malcolm Diamond, John Helmick, Mrs. Carl G. #### NEW PHONE BOOK READY

Delivery Starts Saturday.

New Jersey Bell will begin delivery of more than 33,000 copies of the 1958 Princeton telephone directory on Saturday.

The total is about 4,500 more than last year, and the book contains some 1,000 more listings. Included in this year's edition is zip code information with a zip code map for the multi-sound Trenton post office area. Customers who want directories covering other areas in New Jersey may obtain them at no cost by calling the telephone business office.

TICKETS AVAILABLE

For County GOP Dinner. Reservations are still available for the Mercer County Republican Committee dinner, to be held at the Cedar Garden Restaurant, Mercerville, Monday evening.

Tickets to the dinner, honoring all newly-elected Republican office holders, may be obtained by calling Robert Dougherty, 821-7784. Guest speaker at the dinner will be Massachusetts Governor John Volpe.

LOT PLAN REJECTED

By Borough Board. Borough Planning Board turned down on Tuesday night the request of Eliot Daley, 326 Hamilton Avenue, to subdivide his property into two lots.

Any house built on the second lot would have faced Leavitt Lane. The original development, laid out in 1966, specifically provided that no house would front on Leavitt.

The Planning Board returned to this original plan in making its decision. In addition, the Board decided that backyards of houses fronting on Hamilton and Fisher Avenues would be adversely affected if the new house were built.

The Board pointed out that the new house would, in effect, be surrounded by backyards. Approximately two dozen residents of the area attended Tuesday's hearing.

VOTERS TO PICK THREE

For West Windsor School Board. What three places will be filled on the West Windsor school board will be decided Tuesday. Voters will also pass on the school budget. Candidates are Dr. Arnold H. Krutz of 59 Lillie Street, Princeton Junction; Walter D. Mitrunk of Penn Lyle Road, Princeton Junction; John W. Friddle of Mill Road, Delbridge of Jacob Drive, Princeton Junction; Robert W. MAN OF IRON: Stoney Miller, artist in iron, stands with some of his wall designs. Browse all you like in his workshop — you won't interrupt his welding.

It's New To Us

Now, to "found" pieces. Mr. Miller can take bits and bends of iron and bind them together with fascinating artistry. Would you think that a barbecue grill could make the globe Atlas heart on his back? A seven-foot Atlas, that one.

Would you guess that flat bits of iron could make such a charming abstract table sculpture? (At such a low price!)

Mr. Miller is proud of the figures he makes by welding hollow rods together. This is a difficult technique reflected in higher prices, but the results are dramatic indeed. A stripped-down figure of a runner, for example, has life and flow and an interesting rough texture.

"Ironcraft," as we said above, is on Route 31. From Princeton, you drive past Flemington, avoiding the town altogether, and continuing on the road to Clinton.

"Ironcraft" is on the right side of the road, identified by a sign reading "Snoop Coop." The "Coop" is a sharply A-line building, and you go inside, following the "Coop" labyrinth of hallways, until you reach Mr. Miller in his workshop.

"Ironcraft" is open Wednesdays, through Sundays, 10 to 4, closed Mondays and Tuesdays. By the way—Mr. Miller will submit sketches for your approval if you want anything custom-made.

AND TWICE AS BIG: Fabric Shop Expands. On your way, stop at the Fabric Center at Flemington's Main Street and exclaim over the expanded floor space—at least twice as much—and the exciting new inventory.

Fabrics from designer workrooms are a specialty here, like the end piece of Angelo wool from a designer whose name you'll love to drop when you wear the coat you've made.

Fabric Center boys just enough of these designer pieces to make one or two coats, so you won't meet yourself coming and going. There are silks, too, in this category.

Silk lines come in delectable shades of pale gold, palest sky blue, cherry — here's a four-ply silk crepe, weighty and luxurious to the hand, in deepest black. Here's white, sparkling with sequins.

One of Fabric's most dramatic spring silks is a pure silk border print in white with a 24-inch border of fine scroll work done in thin black lines. It's 43 inches wide and one or two panels of it would make a very exciting dress.

... and the Trimmings

Look at the wall of trimmings at Flemington Fabric Center! Imported headed trims are a specialty, and sure, you may pay $15 a yard for the one and one-half inch gold mesh with the red and lime jewels, but a single band around the neckline of a plain dress — if

Two-inch bands of shimmering discs and sequins will make you heard across the room. Coral headings, from Italy, pairs with gold and black in a striking trim.

Hot lace in lime, pink, yellow will be great on summer white. Five-inch white lace cuffs are ready for your spring navy.

Buttons — and notions, "Unique" appears that don't show at all, pure silk thread are you ready with scissors?

and Moyzabel himself in beige crosshatch fabric.

For the young to see, Flemington Fabric has great big daisy print like these with 16-inch white petals on navy. Sharp white petals and a sharp yellow center stand out sharply against sharp black.

By Art Association. Entrants in the recent scholarship contest sponsored by the Princeton Art Association will attend a 3:30 p.m. reception Friday at the group's gallery, 14 Nassau St. The student art exhibition, for Elaine Galen's Saturday morning class, is now on exhibit at the gallery. The winner of the art contest is Miss Nancy Hastings, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James B. Hastings, 15 Tyson Rd. Other art on exhibit includes work by Laura Chenick, Peri Bringer, Robert Helmick, Barry Lindstrom, Nancy Meisel, Ellen Pollack, Steven Pollack, Helen Statham, and Marc Yates, all of Princeton.

Other students submitting entries included Bruce Cohen, Sarah Friend, and Alexandria Morris. Mrs. Leo Friend, chairman of classes, Mrs. H. Kempton Hastings, Mrs. James B. Hastings, and Mrs. Arthur Statham assisted in the contest.

Work from the adult art classes are also on exhibit at the gallery through this month.

PHOTOCOPIER ADDED

To Public Library. A new SCM photocopier has been installed in the Public Library by the Friends of the Library.

Easy to operate, the machine will be available to anyone at a cost of 10 cents per copy. It will be especially helpful to those doing research because of its ability to copy books and other bound material. Even large maps and charts may be copied in sections.

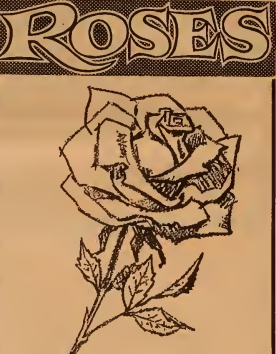

The photocopier has been leased by the Friends for one year. Friends will be used to offset the leasing cost. If the machine earns a profit, the Friends will use it to help extend the services provided by the library.

NO YELLOW LINE: Taxi owner Raymond Grover reports there is "no yellow line" separating North Korean from international waters. He adds it is the State Department when it says, categorically, that the Pueblo had not penetrated Korean waters. (Staff Photo)

Question Of The Week

Question: Do you believe the State Department when it says categorically that the Pueblo was in international waters when it was captured by the North Koreans?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Raymond Grover, 33 Chestnut Street, taxi owner: I don't know of any yellow line that separates North Korea from international waters. A navigational error of even the smallest degree might have put the Pueblo in the territorial waters of North Korea. When they say categorically it wasn't, no, I don't believe them. There are too many tales going on over there in which we don't have the full story.

James McDermott, graduate student, religion: I believe them when they say it was in international waters when it was captured. I'm not quite so sure about the immediate period before the capture. Dean Rusk himself stated the ship was not in contact with the government before its capture and as a result he was unwilling to say categorically that the ship had not entered Korean waters but he was willing to say it was not in Korean waters at the time of capture. There does seem to be some question about the Pueblo's location here, frankly.

Garth Stevenson, Poly Hall graduate student, political science: It seems to me the doubt stems from previous incidents like the Bay of Pigs under Kennedy and the U-2 flights under Eisenhower. I feel this is a case where the Koreans rather than the United States had an interest in creating an incident. The last thing the U.S. needs is a second front. There have been a lot of incidents along the Korean trace line in the last year.

Fred Hirsch, 152 Nassau Street, teacher: I don't believe it when they state it categorically. I wonder if even the captain himself knew if he were in international waters at the time. It is quite possible he was in Korean waters as well. I don't think anyone at this stage could say one way or the other.

Ronald Kowalewski, Penn. Council regional coordinator: I believe it. Our American ambassador to the United Nations, Arthur Goldberg at the Security Council presented recordings of transmissions of the Pueblo and recordings of transmissions of the ship that captured her. Both of them agree. According to these messages, both were actually in international waters at the time, not only beyond the three-mile limit set by nations in general but even the 12-mile limit set by North Korea.

Mrs. Marjorie Horbert, 218 B. Halsey Street, housewife: I'd like to believe them, but this credibility gap has seriously affected my readiness to believe our government's statements about its foreign policies. I certainly hope it's true.

Bollas Bareilly, 63 College Road, West, Office of Public Information, Princeton University: No, I don't believe it. I feel there have been too many instances under the previous administration in which things that have been initially told us have proven to be not necessarily so or not necessarily the full truth.

Robert Cukier, Rocky Hill, graduate student, chemistry: No, I don't. There have been previous occasions — such as the U-2 incident and so on — where the government has said things later shown to be false. So I can't say whether it's mine or not it's mine.

Shan Stankiewicz, Walker Hall, University senior, political department: No. Saying we were in international waters probably means the three-mile limit recognized by most countries. The Koreans claim territorial waters to be extent of 12 miles. Also, it's like the devil of the U-2 which we either admitted makes me think it was probably missing in and out of waterway until it claimed to be in. I wish it were to be contrary but we could categorically believe them — but I personally can't.

Pat Alrains, Trenton, shipper: It's hard to say I don't know the geographical situation, but being a loyal American, if the State Department claims the ship was in international waters, then I have to go along with my country. If they say they were outside Korean waters, I believe them. It's a tough question unless you were there.

Mrs. G. S. Cochrane, Winter Park, Fla. housewife: I'd say yes. I just don't feel it can be checked out easily either way, and I'd just as soon believe our country — not everything — but about this.

TWO SHOWINGS PLANNED
For "New Cinema." Showings at 8 and 10 p.m. are an innovation at McCarter for the theatre's "New Cinema" series. "Allures" is the only one of his films Belson has released for public showing. "Corrida" is described as the ritual of a bullfight moving in slow motion like a ballet across the screen.

Seats for both screenings are reserved and tickets are on sale at the McCarter box office.

Speak Tagalog?

If not, you can learn. Princeton's public library has just acquired sets of records in more than a dozen foreign languages, and the five record sets circulate just like books, so you can learn at home.

Languages offered on these new records are Tagalog, Amharic, Hausa, Hindi, Arabic, modern Hebrew, Vietnamese, Kurdish, Serbo-Croatian, Czech and Slovak, Swahili, Indonesian, Mandarin Chinese and Brazilian Portuguese.

They are helpful, points out Staples, for businessmen or travelers who may want to learn just a few key phrases. But they are complete enough so that you can learn the whole language.

The library also has Basic English, by the way. And, of course, study records in French, Spanish, German, Italian, Russian.

FAN SHAPED TOE... ROOM TO GROW!

When you take a Wikler shoe off your child's foot you won't see red marks across his instep and toes, or around the back of the heel. The new Wikler shoe by Buster Brown has a flared and broadened fan-shaped toe outline. It's curved to follow every natural line of your child's foot. More wiggle room for toes. Complete freedom to flex, exercise and grow. A Wikler shoe is made with the very softest uppers. No irritating inside seams or stiff metal shanks to chafe or chafe. Just natural shape and give. And the feeling of "going barefoot with shoes on".

Mr. Finnegan, who is in the Naval Reserve, completed a physical fitness program and a number of training drills as part of the training session.

Mr. Jackson joined the Department of Agriculture staff in 1911 and directed information activities from 1924 until his retirement in 1966.

His citation read in part: "For men who know your work say that you 'wrote the book' on the art of agriculture and its relations. . . . You are also called goodwill ambassador for the products of New Jersey farms; master promoter of our Garden State as a good place to live, work and play. . . ."

Eric F. Goldman, 89 Mercer Street, is the author of "The Tragedy of Lyndon Johnson: A Historian's Personal Interpretation," which will be published in July as the first book on the Johnson Administration by a former White House aide. Mr. Goldman, now a Visiting Professor of History at Princeton University, was special consultant to the President for nearly three years until his resignation in September, 1965.

Val L. Fitch, 292 Hartley Avenue, and James W. Cronin, 188 Prospect Avenue, have received the 1967 Research Corporation Award for their fundamental researches into the symmetries of physics and of nature itself. The award carries with it a $5,000 honorarium for each recipient.

The two Princeton University physicists were selected as scientists making "valuable contributions to human knowledge, but who have not already been accorded major honors." Their work involved investigations in high energy physics and challenged some of the fundamental principles held in the study of particle physics.

Results of experiments conducted by Drs. Fitch and Cronin at Brookhaven National Laboratory's giant particle accelerator have cast doubt on several accepted laws of nature, including time reversal invariance which states that physical laws remain unchanged when the direction of time is reversed. Their work indicates there may be exceptions to this rule.

Dr. Fitch, 44, graduated from McGill University and received a doctorate from Columbia. He has been a member of the Princeton faculty since 1954. Dr. Cronin did undergraduate work at Southern Methodist University and received his doctorate from the University of Chicago in 1955. He was a research associate at Brookhaven National Laboratory until he joined the Princeton faculty in 1958.

NEW TIRE IN TOWN

At Van Zandt Tire Co., Van Zandt Tire Company in Blueburg has added B. F. Goodrich's new radial tire to its well-stocked tire bin.

The tire, known as the B. F. Goodrich "Silverstone Radial 900," was introduced last month to dealers in the Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware area. BFG first introduced the 900 in Dallas, Tex. in November, 1963 and has since extended its sale to include most of the areas of the country.

The radial tire — its cords run radially from head to head at right angles to the direction of travel, instead of the conventional cross-cord — offers up to 60 percent more mileage, greater stability and control and greater fuel economy. The Radial 900 is manufactured in a full range of sizes for American cars.

HARVARD PACES SKATERS
Saturday at 2 in Rink Harvard's wellbalanced Ivy League hockey team comes to the Blue Line Saturday at 2 with Princeton's steadily improving sextet hoping to repeat its 5-4 triumph here of a year ago. In the first meeting this season between the two teams, the Crimson won at Cambridge, 5 to 3.

The Tigers' skaters' four-game winning streak, first of its kind in the better part of a decade, was scheduled to go on the line Wednesday night against Cornell at Ithaca. The stress figured to be more than the Orange and Black could handle, the Red went into the game with a mark of 13-1.

Defense impressive. Despite the fact that four of the seven defensemen on the roster when the season started are now sidelined by injuries, Princeton has compiled a highly unusual goal-allowed average in its last four games. The Tigers have defeated Dartmouth, 7-2; Boston University, 3-2; Rensselaer Polytech and Yale, the latter by identical scores of 4-2. John Evans and Ben Kaplan are out for the season. Sophomores Jim Birch played against Dartmouth and BU, but wrenched a knee against R.P.I. and may be out an other week. Bill Ramsay, stalwart member of the reigning quarter, has chronic shoulder trouble.

Goalie Ed Tighman invariably performs well in the cage and has shown remarkable progress under the guidance of Coach Bill Quackenbush. The Tigers are playing an aggressive puck-control brand of hockey that figures to bring them out on top of any opponent with which they are evenly matched.

As the week began, they were 8-5 on the season and have a shot at finishing with a mark as high as 14-4. The week would require victories over Yale and Dartmouth in return games, two over Penn and one over either Brown or Harvard. Such an achievement would be certain qualification for the post season ECAC playoffs, a goal no Princeton team has achieved since they were organized in 1962.

Elis Were Troublesome. Of the three Princeton victories last week, the least impressive was the one scored over Yale before a crowd of some 1700 in Baker Rink. Possibly the mid-week road trip and the two rugged games it involved had taken their toll; in any event, there were times when the Tigers couldn't put the puck in the ocean, and were saved on defensive errors by the line work of Tighman in the cage.

At 5:07 of the final period, a Yale team that was as bad as 4-11 on the season drew even at 3-2. Seven minutes later, Terry Peterman (who sat out the first half of the period a misconduct for a derogatory definition of referee Mike Nardello's ancestry) rehabilitated his own character in the estimate of Tiger routers by flipping in the go-ahead goal.

The last eight minutes of the game, climaxed by Peterman's tally and an insurance marker by senior forward Mike Wiggins, were the best Princeton playing against the Elis. Much of the rest of the time, they blew good shots in the visitors' zone, failed to clear properly in their own and were often outshut.

Despite all this, they never trailed. Defensively, Tom Rawls got them off on the right foot at 12:13 of the opening round with a blue-line shot that hit the far corner of the nets. Yale tied it up with the only goal in the second round; Jerry Kearney sent Princeton ahead at 1:13 of the final period and the Elis drew even once more before Peterman and Wiggins broke it up. The Tigers outshot the losers by the wide margin of 36 to 14.

A First at Boston. It was an entirely different story again. B.U., which led twice last week but could not hang on. Sophomores Jim Birch and Gordon Stollery produced the equalizers for Princeton. Kearney registering the third and winning goal with 11 minutes left in the game. The triumph was the first over the Terriers since 1949 and may have marked the first time in Tiger history that the home team

No carburetor.

Inside the left rear fender of every 1968 Volkswagen Fastback and Squareback, there's a small metal box full of transistors, wires and stuff like that.

This box is an electronic computer. What it computes is exactly how much gas the four fuel injectors ought to shoot into the manifold. What the whole business does is replace the carburetor.

So you can forget whatever carburetor problems you've had in the past—dry, flooding, jamming, you name it—because there's no more carburetor. What you get instead is a quick, sure starts and efficient engine operation under all conditions.

That's because electronic fuel injection is a whole new way to make our engines run.

The closest thing to it is a $325 optional extra on a car that costs almost twice as much. But electronic fuel injection is standard equipment on Fastbacks at $2379*, and on Squarebacks at $2349*.

All of which should make you feel the same way about the carburetor as you do about putting antifreeze and water into the radiator.

You can learn to live without it.

...the victory that they debated both H.U. and B.C. on Hoyt ice in the same season.

Next year, at Troy, the ached up Princeton owners took complete charge against an RPI team that was 7-3 on the year. Princeton scored at 1:19
of the first period, sophomore defenceman John Kuback
making a shot before he round-ended. RPI jumped by scoring while it has two men off the ice, and the Red Devils Tiger kept the upper hand at goals by Kearney and Rick Baker's faithful Rink rats
not always happy about his fervent support over Round Ball while they have long suffered from ice, are enjoy-

AT HOME FOR A CHANGE

Yale, Brown face mid-December

team played last night in Now, six of its last eight games are scheduled there, a better advantage factor than either of the other two contenders could count upon.

Yale, which invariably makes trouble for the Tigers
both here and in New Haven,
will be Friday night's opponent. Last place Brown is on tap Saturday.

four seniors and a 6-8 soph-
more, the latter John Whiston.
The veteran quartet consists of Captain Ed Goldstone, Bob Mc-Callum, Rick Stoner and Frank Williams. Goldstone, 6-4, is the tallest; all are good shots,
quick and aggressive.

Brown has encountered even more trouble this winter than
it had anticipated, losing twice
last weekend on its own court to Harvard and Dartmouth.
Best shots on the Brown quintet
are co-captains Rick Landau and Phil Reynolds. The Rhode Islanders have never beaten Princeton in Dilon Gym, and are unlikely to break precedent Saturday.

One That Got Away? The Tigers go into this weekend's battles with mixed emotions
over their performance against Columbia. On the one hand,
they held national ranking
ranked team to a nine-point victory on its own court; nonetheless, there is no denying feeling that they had the Lions on the run and lost — not through any super-play on Columbia's part but through their own misdeeds.

Their 29-26 lead at the intermission was increased to seven
in the early going but eventually, the Tigers were beaten at their own specialty: defense.
Columbia did a better job of holding them in check, nobody in Orange and Black could contain sophomore Jim McMillian and when Princeton picked up its sixth team foul while
the home forces had only one,
the fat was in the fire.

A three-point play by McMillian brought Columbia from behind at 47-46 and his take-charge ability made virtually all of the final difference. He hit for 56% from the floor, 12
for 14 from the line and accounted for almost all the victors' points — 32 out of 69. The lossers finished with 68.

Dave Newmark and Chris Thomford put each other in foul trouble early, both playing with four personals for a good portion of the second half. The green foul Newmark managed a bit more action without drawing his fifth, and finished with 15 points. Thomford was one of five Tigers in double figures but John Harlow's 15
was top, so that no two of them could equal McMillian.

Fascinatingly, a sophomore John Hummer appeared briefly, called upon to guard Mc-Millian after Geoff Petrie and Dave Lawver had picked up
more fouls than they could afford trying to do so. Hummer couldn't handle the assignment, but it was hardly surprising in view of his inaction
since mid-December because of his injured Achilles tendon.

Two days before the team
left for Ithaca, it had been announced that he could not play
again this season. However,
he went to his family doctor in Washington, obtained medical clearance from him and telephoned Coach Pete Cornell while the team was at Cornell that he would be ready for spot duty against Columbia. Expectations are that he will see limited action in the weeks to come.

A 56% shooting performance
in the first half against Cornell, combined with top flight defensive play that pared the home team to a minimal attack, gave Princeton the game
early at Ithaca. It was 41-16
after 28 minutes, and a 71-51
final.

Good shooting by Lawver.

particularly in the first half, a game high performance by Petrie of 13 and a stretch just before the intermission during which they outscored Cornell 16 to 1, all enabled the Tiger-to coast home. They went into the game ranked seventh nationally in defense with a record of 51 points per game allowed their opponents, a figure that suffered slightly the next night in New York but still remains highly respectable.

WRESTLERS DEFEATED
Ivy Grasa Less Likely. Defeated, 24 to 14, by Pennsylvania in what ranked as the decisive match for the Ivy championship, Princeton's
wrestling team came back to earth Saturday.

The Tigers had topped Lehigh last month, and ranked as the favorite to repeat in Ivy action, despite Pennsylvania's victories this winter
over Harvard and Cornell. The Quakers, however, won two bouts (the 137 and 172-lb.
weights) which had been viewed as lost-ups and went into the heavyweight round on the short end of a 15-14 score.
When inking Mike Hajjar
pinned the home team's Olie Kane at 5:24 in a breaking press, it was all over. Final, 28 to 14 for Penn.

Princeton's swimming team
remained unbeaten (7-0)
by defeating Cornell without trouble, 48 to 15. The Tigers will play host to Navy Saturday at 1:30 in Dillen Pool and are expected to win. They will have a row after their mid-week meet with Rutgers.

PIS SKATERS AT 300
At the close of Tuesday's Top
PIS needed a couple of victories
to push their season's mark
above .500. The Princeton Day School hockey team makes its annual invasion of New England this weekend, and the PIS skaters will be looking for a 4-4 defeat at the hands of Hill School Saturday.
In what coach Harry Rolin Miller described as a "pretty backstage game."

Although acknowledging that Hill had a good team, Rolin-Miller pointed out that the Blue and White had several opportunities to score but could not do so. "It was a case of being in the zone," he said.

Hill won the game with a solid three-goal outburst accomplished within four minutes of the second period, that earned a 1-0 PIS lead. The first goal tied the score at 1-1
and provoked the winners into playing inspired hockey for the next 15 minutes, while the Panthers suffered a general
meltdown.

The second goal followed
shorthly thereafter and the third on a power play with a PIS man in the penalty box. The Panthers looked better in the final period and narrowed the count to 2-2 on a goal by Evan Donaldson with 1:30 remaining. Rolin-Miller then pulled out goalie Tom O'Connor with 50 seconds left in an attempt to tie the game. But Hill scored on a length of the ice shot on the empty cage.

Rolin-Miller had praise for O'Connor, a freshman, who took over midway through the second period and remained goalkeeper Chris Reeve was injured on the arm, and did not allow another Hill score. Basil Stetson was credited with the Panthers' first goal midway through the first period on an assist from Bob O'Connor.

Following the weekend contests in Connecticut, the squad
will meet Lawrenceville in Lavin Rock on Wednesday afternoon, February 14.

The PIS junior team fares better at Hill, winning its first game, 3-0 on goals by Arlie Mittoch, Howe Conditale and John Moore. Captain and goalie Ayres Browne made 11
saves in posting the shutout.

STERNET TOP PHS
Piedie Here Tuesday. Take
a team that has averaged only .61 points in its first 15
games; take its second-highest scorer, who has averaged 17.0
in those first 15 but who fails
to connect for a single point;
take the team's top scorer,
who is one-for-seven in the first half.

One need not be familiar with the new math to realize that this adds up to defeat. It was number 14 for the Princeton High School basketball team, which dropped a 15-46
decision to home team Stenert
Friday night.

"It was just one of those
game days," commented PHS coach Larry Van. "We were really off. We just weren't doing."

The countdown has begun for PHS. It has five left now. Friday evening it will be Bridgewater West while Piedie
will be here Tuesday afternoon
at 3:45 in the PHS gym.

Ivan, who has scouted Bridgewater twice, described the Golden Falcons as a 15
team which uses the zone
press. "They'll be tough," he said.

"Piedie," he said, "has three players who can hit 20-21 points any time." Commenting on these and the rest of the season, Ivan added, "We'll give it all we can."

Equal In Baskets. In the Stenert game, PHS matched
the Spartans basket for basket
as each team had 19. The difference was at the foul line
where Stenert shot 27 to 6 for
PHS. Denry DeSantis, Mercer
County's leading scorer, connected on 15 free throws. He scored 21 points in all.

"The foul line killed us," said
Ivan. "You can't do a thing
when a team keeps trapping
you at the foul line on 3-and-1 situations. You can't plan any strategy against that."

The Little Tigers suffered from the twin blows of a cold and poor rebounding. Ron McEwen, the team's most accurate outside shooter, was out for 9 in the first half. John Campbell in the second half came back in scoring with 14.

"It was an odd, in and out,"
said the team's coach, "and out all the time for us," in which they were hurting us
off the boards, too."

In one of the few places,
Hutch Smith played another fine defensive game for the PIS. He limited DeSantis to three points in the first quarter. "He really had me sudded," commented Ivan.

"The thing was the other Steinert players were good."

When Hatch fouled out, Ivan
reported that the Steinert fans gave him an ovation for his play. He scored 13 points to equal his high for the season.

After Stenert took a 19-2
second quarter spurt and it was evident the PIS offense
was not going to get untracked, Ivan inserted several of his second team players. Paul Riccetti, a sophomore, scored 10 points. "Paul was hitting; he looked very good," said Ivan.

Pete Wyckoff, a junior, also saw action.

NCA, ETS STEAL WINS
In YMCA Basketball League.
All it took for NCA to beat Hospital and for ETS to defeat RCA in YMCA basketball action this week, was a cold. NCA won, 61-60, over Hospital, and ETS took 24, 41-40.

NCA outscored Hospital 15-
in the fourth quarter to come from behind for the victory.
Joe Obyork and Clarence Gibert were high scorers with 25 and 20 points, respectively. Willie Hill led the Medics with 21 points.

RCA and ETS were tied at
the end of the fourth quarter, 26-26. ETS scored five points in the overtime period to

WRESTLERS HERE FRIDAY
Against South Brunswick. In its next to last meet of the season, the Princeton High School
wrestling team will entertain South Brunswick Friday evening at 8 in the PHS gym. The match had originally been scheduled for Wednesday.

But the following Friday, the Little Tigers will end their season at home against Columbia. Currently 4-6, they need a victory in both to end with a .500 record. The tougher of the two is South Brunswick,
which, according to PHS coach
Tom Murray, has lost only one.
Last Wednesday at Lawrenceville, the Blue and White won only four matches in dropping a 32-16 decision to the entirely. Ross Bayer and Nick Arcaro scored points for PHS
and Sam Proccacini registered decisions. Co-captain Hank Wilkinson, back in action after being sidelined with an illness, garnered the Little Tigers' fourth match—an 11-4 decision in the 115-pound division.
Hank is undefeated this season.

MONTCCLAIR FIVE NEXT
For PIS Basketball Team.
After battling two of the better
teams in Class A courageously
but unsuccessfully, the Princeton Day School basketball team returns to action this Friday against a good Montclair squad. Tapoff is 3
p.m.

The Panthers have rung up
three victories in three games against "B" schools, and need a win to pull back closer to the 500 mark. Montclair with 10-4 mark, prior to Monday's game with Delbarton,

may well be the best team on this level they have faced so far.

Dropping a weekend encounter with George School, the PIS had a 3-4 record going into a contest with Newark. According to PHS coach Tom Murray, the game will be played
Wednesday afternoon away.
Newark is one of the better
teams on the "A" level.

were up against a severe miss match in height, facing boys 6-2, 6-6, and 6-4. Nonetheless, they made a strong bid in the first half, and at one point in the second quarter led George 21-21.

The victors then threw a full court press against PDS and spurred to an 11-point advantage before the Blue and White margin was 35-24. George opened this up to a comfortable 15 points at the end of the third period.

PDS was hampered in its scoring when Frank Andrews got into foul trouble with his fourth personal card away through the third period. The visitors had drawn to within six points, when Andrews had to sit down.

Craig Page and Bill Rippl shared the scoring honors for the Panthers each getting 16 points. Rick Bass contributed 11. Coach Chaney Jones felt his team played a decent battle with George School of George size and strength.

HUN WINS TWO MORE.
For 84th Record. The Princeton basketball team defeated visiting Wyoming Seminary with a 30-point final period performance and outlasted surprisingly stubborn Moorestown for a 2-10 game in victories last week, as it moved closer to its showdown battle with George School on the 26th.

Not counting Wednesday's scheduled contest with Pennington — against which the Red and Black was expected to experience little trouble — Hun has five games remaining. Saturday it will play host to Pennington in a 2-10 game at the Seminary gym and on Wednesday it will be at Bry Athyn — both Penn Jersey League opponents. It's all in pennant game with George School is sandwiched between two non-league games with Admiral Farragut and Blair. This Friday at the Seminary gym, Hun broke open a close game with Wyoming Seminary by pouring 30 points through the hoop in the final eight minutes of play. The consensus in the gym that afternoon was that if Hun could play as well as that final period, no one, not even George, would defeat it in the remainder of the season.

Hun coach Dave Leele labeled the game, "Our best of the year."

As always, there was the balance in Hun's attack. Sophomore Mike Maguire, whose hall jacking and steals in the final period played a large part in Hun's surge, led the visitors with 21 points. Don Silverman had 16 and Nat Williams added 16 each.

Also on the team, which played a beak of a game on defense, Hun pulled away to an 18-7 lead at the end of the first period but this was neutralized when the visitors outscored Hun, 27-19, in the following period. Most of Wyoming's points were the work of its 6-6 center, Jerry Blain, who finished with a game high total of 27.

Four-Point Victory. Earlier, Moorestown had lost a king-sized score at Hun before succumbing, 57-33. "We were a little rusty that one," said Leele, adding: "When you have a good record, everyone starts running for you; you've got to be up for every game." Hun placed three in double figures and was led by co-captain Silverman's 16. Maguire had 12 and Saker 10.

MUSSEL EXCELS
In Jacques Swaim Meet, Robert Meusel, Princeton High School sophomore, captured two first-place ribbons in a swimming meet held Sunday in Flushing, N.Y. YMCA pool.

Meusel won the 200-yard freestyle for boys 15-17 with a time of 1:58.8. He also won the 100-yard open Fred Delaney Memorial Swim with an impressive clocking of 50.9. Andy Moister, seventh-grader at Community Park School, finished fourth in the 100-yard breaststroke for boys 11-12. His time was 1:20.6.

BENEFIT GAME PLANNED
For YM-YW Building Fund. Two exhibition basketball games for the benefit of the YM-YWCA building fund have been scheduled for Wednesday, February 14 at 8 in the Princeton High School gym.

In the first contest, the Unit No Stars* of WHWH will take on the "Midnight Globetrotters," of the Y coached by B. Franklin Bunn and assistant coach Arthur Curtis. The second game will pit the PRR Commuters against the Reading Daily Travelers. Admission is $1; larger gifts will be accepted for the benefit of the Y.

DOWLING NOTES
Satchula Bowler of Week. With two previous winners in eighth, Henry Satchula of the Tri County Prowlers' League last week won the TOWN TOPICS Award as bowler of the week for the high single game, he rolled a 232. The same situation existed among the women where Jean Bucci won the award with her 192.

Other high games for the freshmen were Wally Brown's 225 and Ray Mount's 223. George Luck had 193-226. Dick Anderson 217-203, and Bill Whitley 210-193. B. Davidson, Stanley Daniel, Lucky Cupples, Jack Petrone

BATTLE OF THE BOARDS: Hun School's Mike Maguire (white uniform) battles Wyoming Seminary's 6-6 center Jerry Eastman for a rebound in Friday's contest in the Princeton Seminary gym. and Stan Tatum were between 24 and 205. At the start of the second half, Mercer No. 3 was all six games to take an early first-place lead. Kingston, Rocky Hill, Plainboro and Hook & Ladder "L" all have four points.

Bob Cifelli and Fred Procat, citizen fashioned 600 series in the A League. Cifelli rolled 183, 207, 217 for 633 and the latter had games of 225-181 227 for 613. Vince Tufano rolled 241. High single game scorers were credited to Joe Baldino, 228; Nick Rossi, 226; Mike Pucelli and Nick Sculerati, 225; and Bud Fower, 214.

Maui Electric broke out a three-way tie for second place which it alone now owns with 20 points, two behind league's 6-4 district. Nini Leasing and Prince Town are all even with 18 and three other teams have 16 points.

A Nae 230 final game pushed Bill Whitley of the Nassau League above the 600 mark by four points. His first game was 192-182. High single game scorers: Vince Tufano, 225; Jerry Perpetua, 223; and Mike Pucelli, 221. Pros Aeschbacher, Fred Goeke, Alex Drammend, Dave Burroughs, Claude Pincelli, Jim Seely and Dick Trangel all rolled games above 200. Four points separate the top four teams in the standings. George Lumber has 24, Tiger Garage, 22, and R&D Atlantic and Princeton Aviation, 20 each. The latter had a 1033 team game — the high such score for the league this season.

Strikes successfully fought off Mixers had to force a tie with the first half in the Princeton Mixed League. First-half scores were Strikes 40, Mixers, 42, and King Pins third with 37. George Munson was high for the men with 214 and — Continued on Next Page

It does things other small cars shouldn't do.

Conspiring at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do. Successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like other cars. It pulls you around corners, curves and other drivers' mistakes. It pulls all SAABs but not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety features. As an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a lifetime GUARANTEE.

Standard warranty given. Please contact your Dealer or P.O. Box 600, Gothenburg, Sweden. You can drive it like a big car.

"Open Space" Closes

The Township has received the last check from the state for the purchase of open space land under New Jersey's "Green Acres" program.

A check for $10,000, representing half the cost of the Ervin property in the northwest part of the Township, was received on January 18 in Township Hall. Administrator Joseph R. Janki announced the Township Committee Monday night that four parcels of Township land had been acquired for open space under the Green Acres plan.

"We hope it will be received any other day," commented Mayor Carl C. Schafer.

A graduate of Amherst College, Dr. Crawford holds the S. M. A. and the S. D. degrees. He held pastorates for more than 11 years at St. Andrews Presbyterian Church and the First Presbyterian Church of Plainsboro.

TWO GIs SEND THANKS

For Christmas gifts, Mrs. Jacques Monroe, Jr., director of the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross, received two letters from many Princetonians for help to fill and mail 200 duty bags at Christmas time for members of the armed forces in Vietnam from the Princeton area.

One from 1st Lt. Patrick E. Malloy III, commander of an armored section, reads: "I wish to express a heartfelt thank you for the gifts your Chapter provided us with on Christmas Day. It is not the material things we need, but the effort your Chapter expended that meant most to my men and myself. These are brave men . . . but they need your support."

"Any thought or deed such as your Christmas effort, helps these men carry on with unusual vigor and perseverance to see an end to this conflict; and to help them and their families. Any future effort, even if it is only a letter of encouragement, will be greatly appreciated."

And this note of personal thanks from SP4 R. W. Led. vision:

"I received one of your Christmas packets today and I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude and thanks. I think it is wonderful of you to send these to us. All of the items are very useful out in the field, and as I haven't been able to get back to base camp for almost five months some of the items would be a necessity. I sincerely hope that all the members of your organization had a Merry Christmas and may their New Year be as joyous."

TRAINING IN TRENTON? Vol. Vocational Setup. Vocational training in Trenton High School for Princeton High students has been proposed by the John Witherspoon Civic Association in a letter to the Princeton Regional School Board.

The goal, according to Mrs. Kathleen M. Edwards, president of the Association, is a "two-tier" graduate with an academic diploma from Princeton High in one hand, and a technical training diploma from Trenton High in the other.

The Association suggests that after consulting with parents and students, youngsters be enrolled in Trenton High in the 10th grade starting in September 1968. Students would attend Princeton High school for part of the school day, and Trenton High no less than four or five hours of the school day, with a goal of two years of continuous vocational training.

Tuition would be paid by the Princeton Regional School Board and the Board would also furnish bus transportation at no extra cost to parents.

Trenton High courses listed by Mrs. Edwards include computer programming, retail buying, retail sales, plumbing, carpentry, beauty culture, automotive mechanic, cosmetology, advanced typing, wood working, tool and die work, among others.

"Princeton schools are not geared now, nor will they be in the foreseeable future, for such a vocational training program," Mrs. Edwards says. She also suggests formation of a committee consisting of guidance counselors, school administrators, municipal officials and businessmen "to give direction as to what kind of training our children should have."

AUDITIONS SCHEDULED

SEVEN BOYS ENROLLED

In Home Economics Course. A home economics course for boys is being added to the curriculum at the high school. The spring semester course, taught by Mrs. Nancy Arca, will be taken on a trial basis by seven students.

Enrolled in Introduction to Food Management, the class will consider vocations in the food industry open to high school, two-year, and four-year college graduates. Large-scale food, short order, and family cook will be taught.

Mrs. Arca, however, has planned several field trips for the class, including visits to a town dairy, bakery, supermarket, and the high school cafeteria. She also expects to have representatives of the food service at the university and seminary to explain large-scale food operations in her class.

GOAL NEARED

In Peace Corps Drive. Princeton Regional students have raised more than $600 towards their goal of $1,000 for the Peace Corps School Partnership Program.

The money will be used for the construction of a model school in an underdeveloped country. The country and specific location of the school have yet to be decided upon.

To complete the drive, a campaign the students have suggested a benefit dance for March 8 in the PHS boys gym from 8 to 11:30. The dance faculty basketball game is also being planned.

LOAN FUND ESTABLISHED

For Medical Students. The Mercer County Hospital Medical Society has established a loan fund to provide loans for county medical students in honor of the late Dr. John F. Schuman.

The project will make an annual sum of up to $1,000 available to students who have successfully completed their first two years of study in an approved medical school. Occasionally, funds may be available for deserving first or second-year students.

Candidates for loans must be five-year residents of the county except for children of Princeton County Medical Society members. Three per cent interest will be charged from the date of entrance into practice, but repayment will not be necessary until two years after the recipient has established his practice.

The fund will be administered by a committee of Mercer County physicians, chaired by Dr. John L. Wikoff. Drs. A. William Blumberg, J. Raymond Burdette, Louis G. Fries and Edward H. Hawkins are also members of the committee.

Applications for loans should be addressed to Dr. Wikoff, Medical Student Loan Fund Committee, Mercer County Component, Medical Society, Carleton Arms, 2B, 231 West State Street, Trenton, N.J. 08618.
